ULTRASONIC5000 ultrasonic technology

Technology is the passion of Great Lengths and the method of ultrasonic application is the result of this passion. It is a method of cold fusion using very small vibrations capable of melting the keratin. Ultrasonic5000 hardware produces dishes that combine Great Lengths strands to the hair of the customer in a very natural way. As well as being extremely effective on fine hair and thin ' Ultrasonic5000 allows high-precision application of strands in the most difficult points.
